What I remember about Steve was his love for life. He did what he wanted to do. He lived life to the fullest, I think we all have things we want to do, but usually do what we have to do to just survive. He loved life. Loved people and loved his family. He was so very proud of his children. And of course, he loved to eat! Loved good food!

Even though I didn't get to spend a lot of time with him over the past few years, but I will miss him and always will admire his intelligence and spontaneity.
